

The court ruled that the 10.2 billion forints previously collected from the capital's account by the State Treasury must be returned to the city, as the withdrawal of these funds would render the capital unable to perform its tasks.

---

Forrás