

Four days after being mobilized, József was already being treated in hospital, where he died on 6 July. Those around him reported signs of beating, but there is no mention of injuries in the official documents.

---

Forrás