

Although the Hungarian Parliament's vote on the transparency bill was postponed, the demonstration planned for the day of the vote was held as scheduled, with Budapest's Kossuth Square filled to overflowing. Several well-known public figures spoke at the event, with the main organizer Róbert Puzsér saying that the national disaster of Hungary's annexation to the East must be prevented.

---

Forrás