

Robert Palladino stressed that the era of public scoldings and moralising from podiums was over. The diplomat took over from the previous ambassador, David Pressman, who had been appointed by the Biden administration.

---

Forrás